OSTENDIO

How Confident Are You In Your Ability to Recover From a Breach?

Build a Resilient Business Continuity Plan That Works When You Need it.

From power outages to global health crises, people-first business continuity gives everyone the confidence to take on any event & keep operations running smoothly.

Stage a fun & engaging realistic tabletop exercise that will encompass all aspects of your incident response plan & apply customized scenarios to engage your team to test all aspects of your incident response plan.

Company downtime is expensive. Global health crises, political tension, power outages and server failures are only a handful of situations that pose risks to businesses every day.

Unfortunately, many executives delay establishing a comprehensive business continuity plan due to the lack of internal time and resources - and pay a steep price.

Ostendio's team of business continuity experts work as an extension of your organization to plan, build and assist in the implementation of strong business continuity and disaster recovery plans, so you can be confident that your operations, workflows and communications remain uninterrupted should a negative event occur.

A Workshop Your People Will Actually Look Forward to

- Engage all departments (not just your IT team)
- Participate in realistic scenarios
- Add fun and levity you won't get with ordinary BCP exercises

Supercharge your business resilience with a business continuity workshop that engages all departments to ensure smooth sailing even through the wildest storms!

In this engaging workshop, Ostendio business continuity experts will develop a plan to:

- Establish a business criticality analysis for your assets, including recovery time and recovery point objectives
- Build components of a business continuity and disaster recovery plan to support day-to-day processes
- Forge employee and customer confidence in operational resilience

Built to secure your people, not just your systems.

Support each team member with everything they need to champion your security.

Set up a demo today to learn how to implement people-first.

Ostendio's Team of Business Continuity Experts:

- Work with your operations team to conduct a business impact and criticality analysis
- Document and deploy business continuity and disaster recovery plans in Ostendio
- Identify the critical backups, redundancy measures and business operations to include in your plan that will lead to minimal disruption
- Roll out business continuity testing and training for your organization's staff
- Facilitate a fun and engaging realistic tabletop exercise that will apply custom scenarios to encompass all aspects of your business continuity and disaster recovery plan and make sure it is ready for prime time in the event of a disaster or disruption of business.
- Ostendio allows you to organize your assets & controls so that you can quickly investigate & contain an incident should the unexpected happen.
- Provide a report template to systematically capture & report on suspected incidents
- Customize your plan to ensure that you are able to investigate & contain incidents that impact your unique environment, assets & customers
- Help you communicate with affected parties within regulatory timeframes
- Conduct lessons learned so you can continuously improve your security program